Many solutions.

The Avery Dennison EHD T-End™ Fastening System

Start saving time and money every day with a new method of securing foam layers. The new EHD T-End Fastening System is designed to replace messy sprays, hot melt glues and water based adhesives. No mess. No curing time. No odors. No bottlenecks.

In one quick click, EHD T-End fasteners can join multiple layers of foam faster than glues and adhesives. Unlike glue, EHD T-End fasteners secure layers simultaneously, yet allow easy repositioning to improve quality and reduce waste.

With EHD T-End Fasteners, there are no shifting or “crackling” problems. When adhesives fail, foam layers can shift or make a “crackling” noise, which prompts some consumers to return their new mattress. EHD T-End Fasteners virtually eliminate adhesive failure, reducing returns, and assuring customer satisfaction.

The new EHD T-End Fastener is made of durable nylon plastic which is odor free. And this system eliminates the need for glue – which means increased worker comfort.

Eliminate manufacturing bottlenecks with this new securing system that streamlines material handling. Labor is reduced, and curing time associated with glues and adhesives is eliminated. You'll enjoy greater productivity.

READY. FASTEN. DONE. The long EHD needle easily penetrates multiple foam layers. The inserted T-End Fastener holds neatly and securely with no glues or adhesives.

Fastening pocket springs to foam encasements and securing flanges is a snap, too.

Find out how you can take advantage of this new money-saving, user-friendly technology. Call for a free demo: 1 800 225 5913
